Who We Are

Finding the key talent for your organisation can be daunting...

Christian Jobs was born from a vision to connect Christians with purposeful work.

Serving thousands of Christian-led organisations we know the Christian recruitment sector, and how to manage the delicate and challenging search process that results in the best appointments for your organisation.

James Everall
CEO

James is passionate about connecting Christians with God's work.

With over 15 years of experience, he is trusted and well-connected within Christian recruitment.

James is involved in local church leadership, and church-planting initiatives across the UK, and abroad.

Joe Santry
Business Manager

Joe is one of the go-to Christian recruitment professionals in the UK.

Since joining Christian Jobs he has delivered on projects ranging from C-level appointments to graduate schemes.

He is involved in leadership at his local church and loves helping Christians unlock their potential.

Why Use Christian Jobs

1

With over two decades of Christian recruitment experience, we know our market and deliver results! We have a track record of developing long-term relationships with clients who benefit from strategic, and proactive recruitment from graduate schemes to main board appointments.

2

To support our search projects, we have an extensive candidate database of Christian professionals, access to major UK and international job boards, as well as membership to professional networks which we use to help identify some of those more difficult-to-discover Christian professionals.

3

We are Christian sector-specific. We do not dilute our services by supporting other non-profit sectors. We constantly network, develop relationships, and partner with organizations and communities serving the Christian sector.

87%

of executive search campaigns managed by Christian Jobs have resulted in a successful placement.

Who We Support

Trusted by churches, Christian businesses and charities.

What People Say

The logo for LICC (London In-City Church) features the letters "licc." in a bold, sans-serif font, with a red dot above the "i".

Nigel Hall - Operations Director, LICC

"We recently used Christian Jobs to conduct an Executive Search for a role which we had found hard to fill. We were impressed by the work they carried out for us – they worked hard, reached potential candidates that we certainly would not have reached, and communicated well. We were able to fill our vacancy and would certainly use them again."

Rachel Bradley - Director Of Fundraising & Supporter Relations, London City Mission

"Christian Jobs made a massive effort, not just to find experienced candidates, but to understand us as an organisation and to put forward those candidates who strongly identified with our vision and values, supporting us to recruit eight excellent candidates in just twelve weeks."

The logo for All Souls Serve The City features the text "ALL SOULS" in a bold, black, sans-serif font, with "Serve The City" written in a smaller font below it.

Pamela Brown-Peterside - Director, All Souls Serve The City

"I really appreciated the face to face, hands-on approach of Joe at Christian Jobs. He was clear about what he was offering us and honoured the process as he'd laid it out. And when a promising candidate fell through quite far into our discussions with them, he had kept looking and was able to locate an excellent candidate for us in no time."
