We are looking for a property lawyer and a charity lawyer to join our existing team, working alongside other Christian solicitors at the top of their field. We are seeking individuals who are passionate about using their legal expertise to help Christian organisations and churches be more effective in serving Christ.

Property Lawyer

This could be a full or part-time position, based either in our Market Harborough office in Leicestershire or in Old Street, London. It would suit a qualified solicitor with at least two years PQE, including someone returning to work after a career break/career change. You will work closely with other members of the property team, as well as liaising with our charity law team. Experience in commercial property law is essential.

The ideal candidate will also be familiar with residential conveyancing and charity law, and have a good general understanding of the legal issues that Christian organisations and churches are likely to face.

Charity Lawyer

This is a full-time position, based either in our Market Harborough office in Leicestershire or in Old Street, London. It would suit a qualified solicitor with at least 1 year PQE, including someone returning to work after a career break/career change. You will work closely with other members of the team, reporting directly to the head of the charity team.

The ideal candidate will have experience in charity law and a good general understanding of the kinds of legal issues that Christian organisations and churches are likely to face.

It is a requirement for both of these roles that the persons we appoint are evangelical Christians who are committed to our charity's purposes – to see God's kingdom grow.
