Ykids is an award winning and creative young people's charity working to raise world changers. We are looking for a 'Story Keeper' to develop and manage a creative education programme around literacy in our new venture.

This role would suit someone who is passionate about children's literature and story telling, with a creative flare and a gift for managing projects, people and having fun!

They will have an outgoing personality and be able to work with schools, local libraries, museums, families, children, authors and artists to develop a programme that engages and enthral young people encouraging them to read, write and tell their own stories.
