FROM THE INTERIM CEO

I am delighted that you are interested in the role of Donor Relations Officer with Church Army, I really hope that as you read through this job pack you get a clearer sense of who we are as Church Army and how this role fits into our desire to see communities across these islands transformed.

This is an exciting time to be part of Church Army as we continue to grow our frontline work in addition to implementing the new strands of our DARE strategy in the next three years to further our impact and reach our vision.

We are passionate about seeing communities transformed which is why Church Army is proud to work in some of the toughest communities across the UK and Ireland and make an impact that brings about real-life change. Our Centres of Mission, which are created in partnership with Diocese, are where we deploy evangelists into communities to share faith and empower and equip the local church in mission and evangelism. We are working hard in our aim to increase to 50 Centres of Mission by 2027. In Marylebone London, we run the biggest women's only hostel which empowers women to end their homelessness and live their lives to the full. We also run the Amber Project in Cardiff which helps over 100 young people each year who battle self-harm; as well as a hostel for young people.

Our GRACEUP values are at the heart of all that we do. We are proud of our committed and passionate staff team who all contribute to our vision of seeing communities transformed. In joining Church Army, you will belong to a community of gifted people who are proud to do what they do, and we work hard to make sure our team know that they are valued for their contributions and know that they are making a difference to the lives of hundreds of people.

This role of Donor Relations Officer is responsible for developing and maintaining a portfolio of supporters in Yorkshire and North-East England - a mix of individuals, churches, major donors, corporates and other funders. You will be home-based, with regular visits to the Wilson Carlile Centre in Sheffield, which homes our national office team and operates as a reputable accommodation and conference centre; it is a fun and hardworking team to be part of.

I hope that as you read through this job pack, you will be inspired and encouraged to want to join amazing team and Organisation.

WE ARE CHURCH ARMY

We are Church Army. We are catalysts; strengthening lives and communities. We do not shy from the gospel because we believe it changes lives.

Our vision

For everyone everywhere to encounter God's love, and be empowered to transform their communities through faith shared in words and action.

Our values

Everything we do is underpinned by our values:

Generous - We want to model God's generosity to others.

Risk-taking - We have a long heritage as a pioneering movement, prepared to take risks and give colleagues permission to seek to do new things.

Accountable - We are accountable to God and others. We want to be reliable and live responsibly to high professional standards.

Collaborative - We are committed to partner with those who share our values; we believe it enhances our work.

Expectant - We are hopeful, expecting God to do new things amongst us.

Unconditional - God loves everyone and everyone is significant in his eyes; we will serve anyone regardless of their age, gender, race, sexuality, faith, ability, status or circumstances.

Prayerful - We listen for God's voice and want to be obedient to him. We want to be like Jesus in our actions and witness.

THE ROLE OF DONOR RELATIONS OFFICER

You're a storyteller. When you speak, others listen - you draw people in, and they love to listen to you because you're authentic, with a warm, enthusiastic and engaging personality. You'll mix in all the right circles to build a network of trusted influencers who will in turn recruit new supporters, turning interest into committed giving.

You naturally connect with people from all kinds of backgrounds and in all kinds of settings. You are able to adapt the way you speak according to your audience and you're equally at home talking one to one as you are presenting to a crowded room, which is just as well as this role will involve fundraising from individuals, churches, major donors and corporates.

As a Christian, you will have a passion to see lives transformed by the Gospel, and love to share stories with our supporters and potential supporters about the impact of our work to then be able to ask them to give to Church Army.

You thrive on meeting challenging targets because success is part of your DNA. You will have targets for the quality and quantity of your work as well as financial income targets.

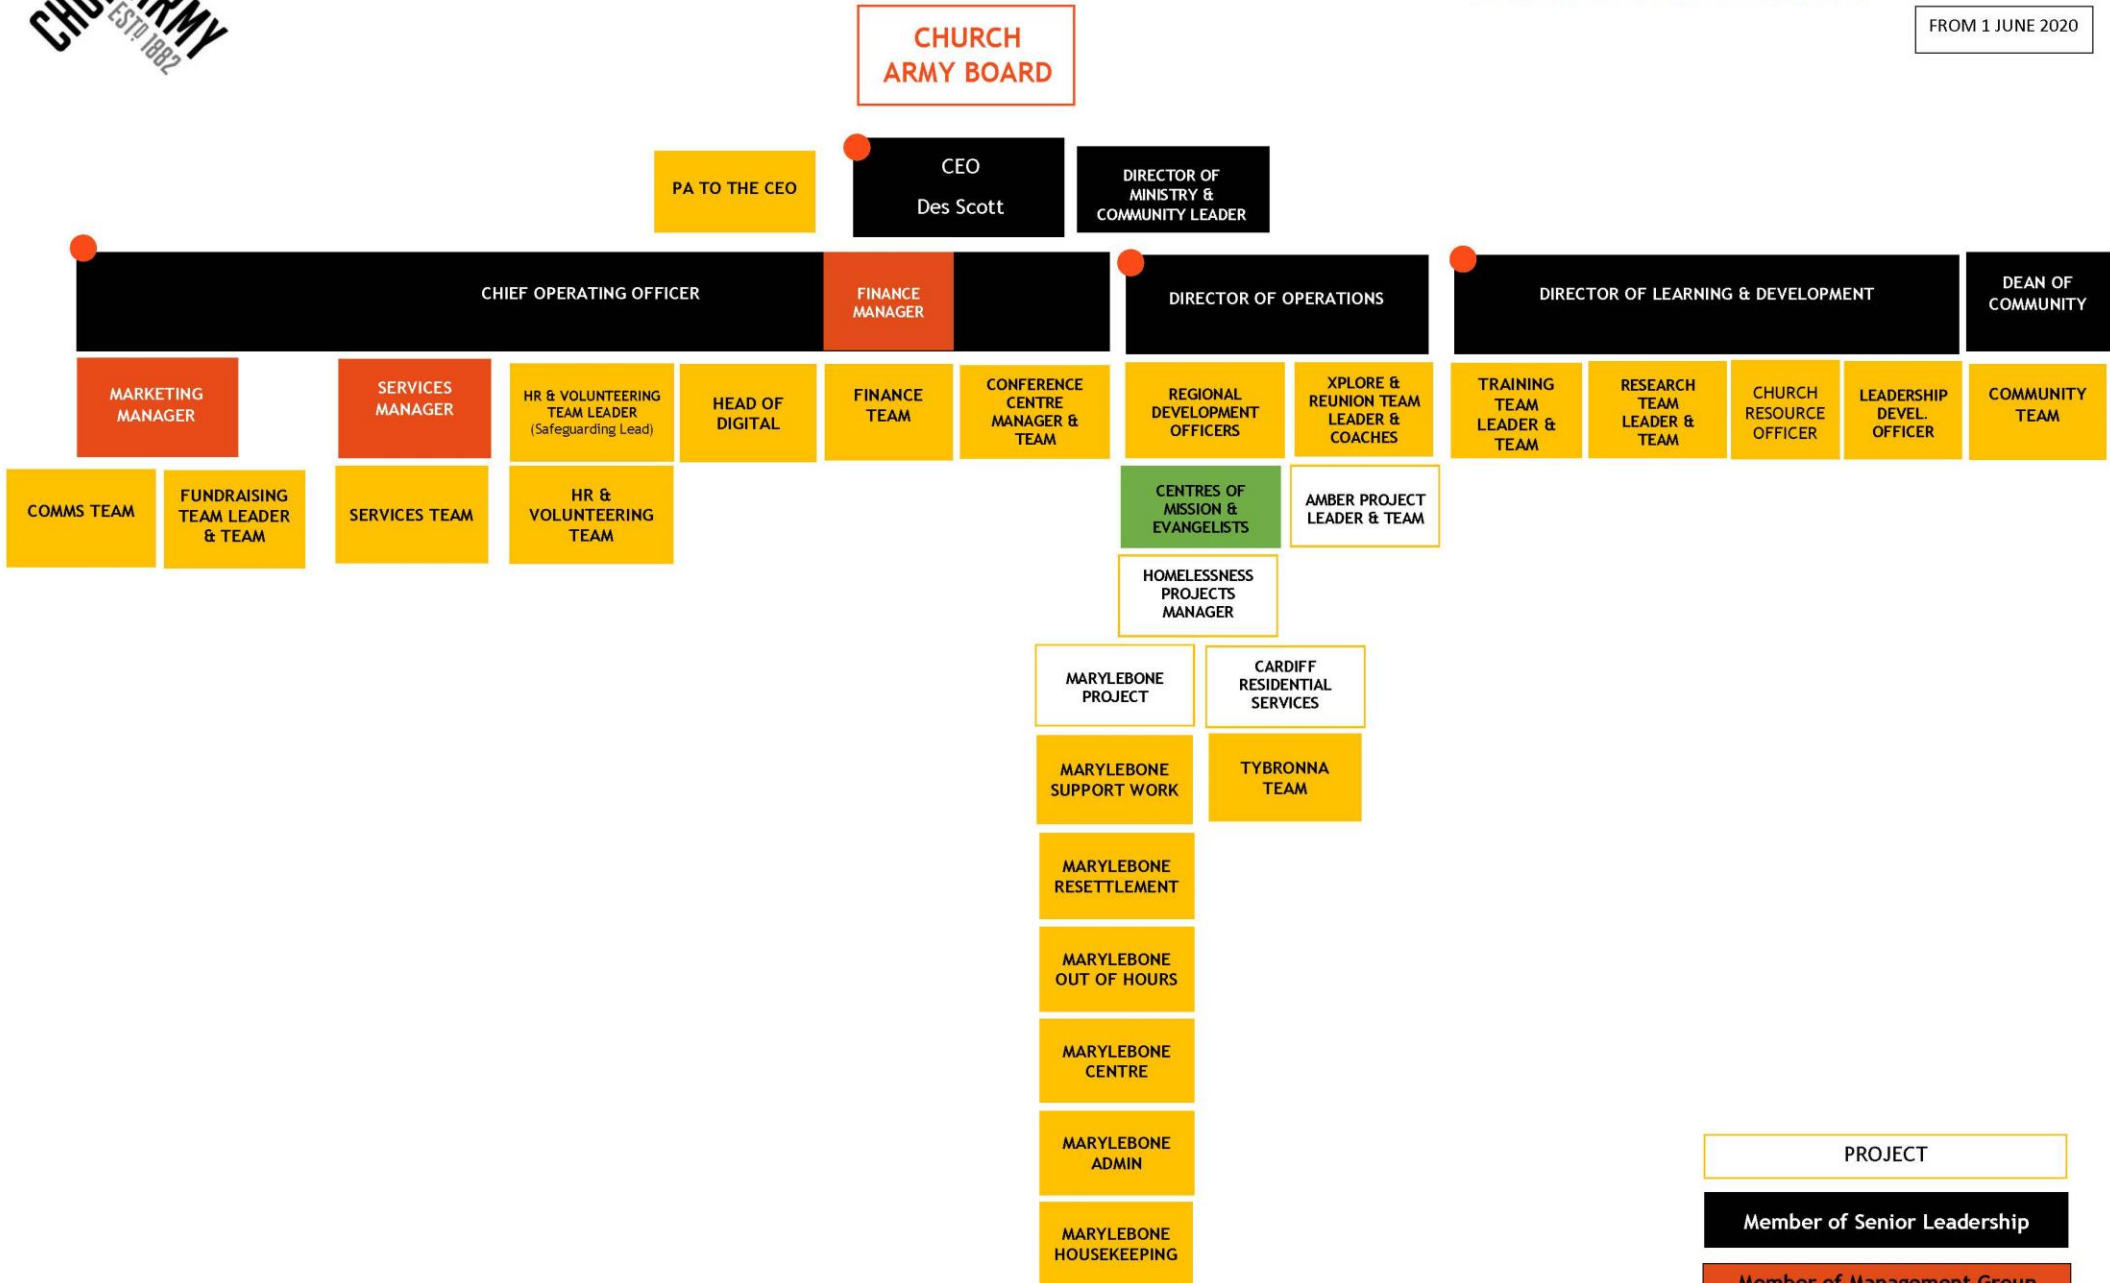

As the Donor Relations Officer, you'll use all of the above attributes to support existing supporters and acquire new supporters for Church Army from Yorkshire and across the North-East of England and obtain commitments from them to fund our pioneering work. We have ambitious goals and we need ambitious people to be part of the journey; your experience will position you to gain increased voluntary donations to match our growth, especially from influential supporters, Major Donors and Corporates.

This is an exciting new role which will evolve over time. You will be able to make your own and have creative freedom to mould to your strengths. A self-starter, you'll need no motivation to succeed. You'll also relish being part of a wider team and sharing learning with colleagues.

We will provide you with the support you need to succeed, including professional training where appropriate, regular 1-2-1s with your line manager and all the support that comes from being part of a national charity.

This role is home-based, with regular visits to the national office in Sheffield.
