MISSION CITY

LONDON

London City Mission (LCM) serves the church of London in sharing the love of God and the good news of Jesus Christ with the least reached of London.

One in three people don't have a Christian friend to invite them to church, open a Bible with them, or tell them the good news of Jesus. We want to see that change. The latest census data reports that under 10% of the inhabitants of London's poorest districts attend Christian churches. The poor areas of London are incredibly diverse, in fact London is the most ethnically diverse city in the world, growing at over 100,000 people a year. We believe that these ethnic groups, often living in the poorest areas of London, are in desperate need to hear the gospel but are least likely to be reached with it. The world has come to London – we long to see the gospel taken to the world by working alongside churches to visit homes and go out into the streets of London with the good news of the gospel. Why?

Because London Needs Jesus!

For 185 years the gospel has been at the heart of all we do. Together with London's churches we show God's love in practical ways and continually look for ways to share the message of the gospel of Jesus Christ with the least reached people in our capital. Our monthly team gatherings include testimonies of how God is working amongst the least reached people of the city, and our deep conviction is that much more needs to be done – and can be done - at this urgent hour for London.

This is a unique opportunity to impact London with the gospel

We are now looking to appoint a new Database Manager who will play a key role in helping London City Mission achieve a sustained increase in our funds through the effective stewardship of supporter data, enabling us to achieve our ambitious five year strategy: to mobilise and better support a growing, flourishing Church that is sharing the love of God and good news of Jesus Christ with London's least reached communities. It's a crucial and exciting time in the history and further development of London City Mission, and through this role the successful candidate will be able to make a difference in London for the salvation of souls and to the glory of God.

We are searching for a Database Manager who is driven by the conviction that LONDON NEEDS JESUS

The context

Our Missionaries work with and mobilise churches to build relationships with people in their communities and share the transforming love of God in Jesus Christ to enable many people to put their trust in Jesus and to join his family, the Church. Our Missionaries carry and live out the gospel in London's neediest neighbourhoods where they live, work and worship, in partnership with churches.

To deliver our aspirations we have created clear lines of leadership, support and accountability for our entrepreneurial front-line mission teams. They are supported by our professional head office teams, and together we form one London City Mission team committed to the salvation of souls and the glory of God in London. As one mission team, we gather regularly to pray, train and hear updates that encourage and inspire.

Graham Miller was appointed as CEO ("Chief Servant") in 2013, being the youngest London City Mission CEO since its founder, David Nasmith. Following progress against a bold strategy over the last few years we have recently agreed an ambitious strategy for the next five years, reflecting our missional urgency. This places a greater intentional emphasis on partnering with churches to envision, engage and equip the Church in its evangelistic cross-cultural urban mission to the least reached and hardest to reach communities of London.

London City Mission currently has an annual turnover of approximately £7 million, which supports the work of approximately 80 front-line missionaries, 40 Mission Associates and 20 short-term placements, as well as our support teams at head office. We are also blessed to steward a portfolio of over 200 properties used for missional purposes, which includes a number of community based centres.

To support our ambitious strategy, we have an ambitious plan to grow our income to enable London City Mission to become financially sustainable. We are, therefore, looking to appoint a Database Manager to help equip the Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships directorate deliver targeted donation growth by enabling effective use of supporter data throughout the Mission.

Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships

As part of our five-year strategy we will increase the number of churches that we partner and engage with and we will broaden and deepen that engagement to inspire, enable and equip them in mission. Our missionaries are increasingly required to lead, envision, and equip others in evangelism, as well as to be evangelists themselves.

Our ambition for growth and change in mission must be matched by an ambition to raise the funds we need to support mission and to enable London City Mission to become financially sustainable. To do this we are committed to drive targeted donation growth year on year, reaching a target increase of annual income to £1m more than current levels by 2024.

Our highly committed Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships team will play a key role in this, working with our valued supporters and our missionaries, and developing new partnerships. We are, therefore, building and developing our Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships team who will take forward our new fundraising strategic approach under the new Direction of Rachel Wagstaff – Director of Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships.

The Database Manager role provides a unique opportunity to have an impact on reaching London with the good news of Jesus Christ, whilst gaining experience of a range of different types of fundraising. A more detailed Job Description and Person Specification is attached, but key to success in this role will be the ability to:

- Ensure that all supporter data is synchronised with the central CRM and appropriately accessible to users across the Mission.
- Providing support for the development of fully integrating all systems that hold supporter data with the central CRM, working with external suppliers as required, monitoring the future integrity of all integrations.
- Produce accurate and timely reports from the CRM database, undertaking analysis and identifying key relevant trends to the Director of Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships and the wider leadership of the charity. Designing and develop a suite of reports that effectively support the work of the Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships team
- Develop processes and efficiency savings that will assist the Supporter Partnerships team in quickly and accurately processing all donated income into the CRM database

A separate job description and person specification is included at the end of this brochure, setting out the role and the person we are looking for.

As Evangelical Christians we accept the following doctrines which we regard as crucial to the understanding of the faith, and which should issue in mutual love, practical Christian service and evangelistic concern:
