London City Mission

London City Mission (LCM) serves the church of London in sharing the love of God and the good news of Jesus Christ with the least reached of London.

One in three people don't have a Christian friend to invite them to church, open a Bible with them, or tell them the good news of Jesus. We want to see that change. The latest census data reports that under 10% of the inhabitants of London's poorest districts attend Christian churches. The poor areas of London are incredibly diverse, in fact London is the most ethnically diverse city in the world, growing at over 100,000 people a year. We believe that these ethnic groups, often living in the poorest areas of London, are in desperate need to hear the gospel but are least likely to be reached with it. The world has come to London – we long to see the gospel taken to the world by working alongside churches to visit homes and go out into the streets of London with the good news of the gospel. Why?

Because London Needs Jesus!

For 185 years the gospel has been at the heart of all we do. Together with London's churches we show God's love in practical ways and continually look for ways to share the message of the gospel of Jesus Christ with the least reached people in our capital. Our monthly team gatherings include testimonies of how God is working amongst the least reached people of the city, and our deep conviction is that much more needs to be done – and can be done – at this urgent hour for London.

This is a unique opportunity to impact London with the gospel

We are now looking to appoint a Missionary Fundraising Support Manager who will play a key role in helping London City Mission achieve a sustained increase in our funds, enabling us to achieve our ambitious five year strategy: to mobilise and better support a growing, flourishing Church that is sharing the love of God and good news of Jesus Christ with London's least reached communities. It's a crucial and exciting time in the history and further development of London City Mission, and through this role the successful candidate will be able to make a difference in London for the salvation of souls and to the glory of God.

Our Missionaries work with and mobilise churches to build relationships with people in their communities and share the transforming love of God in Jesus Christ to enable many people to put their trust in Jesus and to join his family, the Church. Our Missionaries carry and live out the gospel in London's needlest neighbourhoods where they live, work and worship, in partnership with churches.

To deliver our aspirations we have created clear lines of leadership, support and accountability for our entrepreneurial front-line mission teams. They are supported by our professional head office teams, and together we form one London City Mission team committed to the salvation of souls and the glory of God in London. As one mission team, we gather regularly to pray, train and hear updates that encourage and inspire.

Graham Miller was appointed as CEO ("Chief Servant") in 2013, being the youngest London City Mission CEO since its founder, David Nasmith. Following progress against a bold strategy over the last few years we have recently agreed an ambitious strategy for the next five years, reflecting our missional urgency. This places a greater intentional emphasis on partnering with churches to envision, engage and equip the Church in its evangelistic cross-cultural urban mission to the least reached and hardest to reach communities of London.

London City Mission currently has an annual turnover of approximately £7 million, which supports the work of approximately 80 front-line missionaries, 40 Mission Associates and 20 short-term placements, as well as our support teams at head office. We are also blessed to steward a portfolio of over 200 properties used for missional purposes, which includes a number of community based centres.

To support our ambitious strategy, we have an ambitious plan to grow our income to enable London City Mission to become financially sustainable. We are, therefore, looking to appoint to a new role of Missionary Fundraising Support Manager, to help us deliver targeted donation growth from supporting the personal fundraising efforts of Missionaries and Mission Associates.

As part of our five-year strategy we will increase the number of churches that we partner and engage with and we will broaden and deepen that engagement to inspire, enable and equip them in mission. Our missionaries are increasingly required to lead, envision, and equip others in evangelism, as well as to be evangelists themselves.

Our ambition for growth and change in mission must be matched by an ambition to raise the funds we need to support mission and to enable London City Mission to become financially sustainable. To do this we are committed to drive targeted donation growth year on year, reaching a target increase of annual income to £1m more than current levels by 2024.

Our highly committed Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships team will play a key role in this, working with our valued supporters and our missionaries, and developing new partnerships. We are, therefore, building and developing our Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships team who will take forward our new fundraising strategic approach under the new Direction of Rachel Wagstaff – Director of Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships.

The Missionary Fundraising Support Manager role provides a unique opportunity to have an impact on reaching London with the good news of Jesus Christ. A more detailed Job Description and Person Specification is attached, but key to success in this role will be the ability to:

- Work with the Director of Fundraising and Supporter Partnerships to develop and lead London City Mission's fundraising strategy to significantly increase income through the activities of front line staff in developing gospel partnerships in support of personal ministry.
- Build strong relationships with mission staff, supporting them with training, coaching and advice to grow the restricted gifts from individuals and churches that are allocated to their personal ministry support
- Working alongside the Communications team and the Supporter Partnerships Team, ensure that there is a smooth online and offline journey into support for those seeking to partner with a particular personal ministry of mission field staff

A separate job description and person specification is included at the end of this brochure, setting out the role and the person we are looking for.

All of this is done in line with a set of values that LCM have developed to shape the way we work and relate with each other, with the Church and with the people and communities we engage with. Our values are set out below.

Statement of Faith and Conduct

London City Mission Statement of Faith and Conduct

As Evangelical Christians we accept the following doctrines which we regard as crucial to the understanding of the faith, and which should issue in mutual love, practical Christian service and evangelistic concern:

- The revelation of the triune God given in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments and the historic faith of the Gospel therein set forth.
- The sovereignty and grace of God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit in creation, providence, revelation, redemption and final judgement.
- The divine inspiration of the Holy Scripture and its consequent entire trustworthiness, clarity and supreme authority in all matters of faith and conduct.

- The substitutionary sacrifice of the incarnate Son of God as the sole and all-sufficient ground of redemption from the guilt and power of sin, and from its eternal consequences.
- The justification of the sinner solely by the grace of God through faith in Christ crucified and risen from the dead.
- The illuminating, regenerating, indwelling and sanctifying work of God the Holy Spirit.
- The priesthood of all believers, who form the universal Church, the Body of which Christ is the Head and which is committed by His command to the proclamation of the Gospel throughout the world.
